

LEADERSHIP PROGRAM for Multicultural Parents

Organized by:
Coalition for Equal Access to Education

- Do you wish to help multicultural children and youth and their families achieve full potential?
 - Do you ache to build communities?
 - Do you have a vision?
 - Do you wish to create positive social change?
- Do you want to be at the decision-making table on issues that affect your family and your communities?
 - Do you aspire to be a community leader?

If you are an ethno-cultural parent and answered “yes” to any of the above questions, the Coalition for Equal Access to Education would like to invite you to apply for a 12-week leadership program.

We will work with parents to build confidence, to share ideas with others, and to gain practical knowledge and skills. We will support parent leaders at the individual and group level to develop, implement and evaluate parent-led community projects.

We seek diversity in terms of participants’ cultural background and areas of interest. Childcare services and bursaries are available.

Application Deadline: November 19, 2007
